

ASK LICENSE FOR 'MOVIE' THEATRE

B. H. Sward and E. H. Corbin Propose to Change Site for Much Discussed Show.

B. H. Sward and E. H. Corbin this morning filed with the city commission formal application for a license to operate a moving picture theatre on Fourteenth avenue between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets. It will be remembered that at the meeting of the commission last Monday, the council went on record as opposed to the location of the theatre on Thirty-eighth street and Fourteenth avenue, following protests from P. J. Carlson and other residents in that locality. It is now proposed to place the show around the corner on Fourteenth avenue, and it is believed there will be no objection to this site.

AT HIGH SCHOOL

Henry Olds entertained about 600 students of the High school and Lincoln building after school yesterday. He lectured on birds and clearly interested their calls. Mr. Olds is traveling under the auspices of the Illinois Audubon society.

Henry E. Brown, formerly principal of the local High school, but now at the head of the New Trier township High school of Cook county, visited the local High school a few days ago, and after being shown over the manual arts building expressed his admiration for the new building. The following letter has been received from Mr. Brown relative to the new building: "I want to tell you how greatly I appreciate seeing your new manual arts building. It is certainly the best thing of the kind in its line in the country and you deserve a great deal of credit for getting it into such good shape. I predict your work will be better than it has ever been before in Rock Island."

Very cordially yours,
"HENRY E. BROWN."

While in this city, Mr. Brown said that the local manual arts building was as good as the building which has recently been erected in New Trier at the cost of half a million dollars. He also said that it was without doubt the best arranged building of its kind that he has ever seen.

Girls from the ward schools this morning took up their work of cooking in the manual arts building for the first time. With the completing of the cooking room at the manual arts building, the girls throughout the city will be better accommodated for this work. The girls of the two upper grades of the Longfellow and Washington buildings will receive instructions at the Longfellow school, while those of the Lincoln and Hawthorne will come to the manual arts building for their lessons. The cooking room at the Longfellow building was furnished with the apparatus which was used at the High school domestic science rooms last year.

DRINK DANGER IS HOBSON'S THEME

Alabama Congressman, Hero of Merrimac, Gives First Augustana Lecture.

GREAT DESTROYER SUBJECT

Forces of Federal Government Working Towards Educating Young to Eschew Intoxicants.

"In the light of the truth that every drink endangers health, the terrible truth that alcohol destroys and degenerates, and that it blights progeny, there can be from the standpoint of the individual but one rational course in life with regard to this deadly poison, and that is a life of absolute, total abstinence," declared Congressman Richmond P. Hobson of Merrimac, Mass., last evening in his lecture on "The Great Destroyer," which was the opening number of the Augustana college lecture course.

The speaker said that there is in every living thing an evolutionary impulse to rise and progress. This progress is not changing the physical nature of man, but is evolving chiefly in his nervous system, building up those delicate centers of the brain that have to do with the moral sense. And while nature is trying to produce a higher type of civilization, alcoholic beverages are reversing the processes of nature and setting back the purposes of creation. This, declared Captain Hobson, is the Titanic force which is preventing us from producing a perfect nation.

GIVES STATISTICS.
The statistics of the war department show the appalling fact that alcohol is killing off as many Americans every year as all the wars of the world have killed in battle in 2,000 years," asserted Hobson. "The figures of the British government and the English life insurance companies as the effect of drinking on longevity are as follows:

"If a young man at the age of 20 is a total abstainer and remains so he will live to the average age of 56, but if he is a moderate drinker he will live to the average of 51. If he is a heavy drinker he will die at the average age of 45."

"It is evident," he continued, "that the 'Great Destroyer' must be destroyed. All investigators of the subject have come to that conclusion. The divergence of opinion is in the method of procedure. We cannot change the old drinkers, but we can mold the young, and it is with the young that we must begin."

Captain Hobson outlined the plan of temperance legislation and agitation which is being carried out for the education of the younger generation along the line of prohibition.

REVOLUTION IN CONGRESS.
He mentioned how a joint resolution to that effect had been introduced in congress and how the forces of the government were being used in carrying out this work. Two million copies of his lecture, "The Great Destroyer," had been sent out and that more temperance literature was being prepared and that a vigorous campaign was being carried on in that line. "We expect," said he, "that the coming generation, on account of this campaign of education, will arise and place a prohibition amendment in the federal constitution."

Colonel Burr, commandant of the Rock Island arsenal, introduced Captain Hobson, speaking of him as a "man of action, one who has built ships, sunk ships, and raised ships. Now he is devoting himself to moral uplift of the people."

This is the first time that Hobson has appeared in the tri-cities and the rapid attention afforded him by the large audience amply testified to the merit of the lecture and the oratorical ability of the speaker.

LISTERED PEP SIN GUM FREE THIS WEEK

Local Tobacco Dealers Presenting One Package to Each Purchaser of Mecca Cigarettes.

For the next few days tobacco dealers in Rock Island and Moline will give free to every purchaser of a 10c new oval package of Mecca cigarettes a standard 5c package of Listered Pepsin gum. This gum is one of the most carefully produced and delightfully flavored chewing compounds made. Its scientific preparation is said to make Listered Pepsin gum beneficial as well as enjoyable, and through its free distribution, local smokers have an opportunity to try it without cost. Two novelty rugs are also given with each oval package of twenty cigarettes.

The manufacturers of Mecca cigarettes seem quite willing to make this special offer to secure the wide trial they desire for this brand. Mecca cigarettes have an unusually large sale throughout the country, and it is said that a large proportion of this sale is to smokers who like Mecca for its exceptional mildness and sweetness, irrespective of price. In fact, tobacco dealers say that Mecca is constantly surprising smokers who expect such high quality only in cigarette costing double. (Adv.)

Whole Country Watches Alabama Senatorship Contest

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—Because of the national prominence of the contestants, the fight now being waged between Oscar W. Underwood and Richmond Pearson Hobson for the vacant Alabama senatorial seat is being watched with interest by the whole country.

The fight will be spirited, if not bitter, for both men are determined and they represent diametrically opposite schools of political thought, although both are democrats. Underwood is a conservative; Hobson a radical.

Some idea of the nature of the fight may be gained from the remarks made by the two gentlemen on the floor of the house of representatives the other day, both being members of that body. Hobson in his speech called attention to the fact that Thomas Fortune Ryan of Wall street had contributed $35,000 to the Underwood fund in the preliminary presidential campaign.

"Before the campaign I told Bryan that I was for Oscar Underwood," said Hobson. "I told Wilson, then governor, the same thing. I said I was in accord with the Wilson progressive politics, but that I was for Underwood because of state pride."

"Finally charges began to be made that the Underwood campaign was being financed from Wall street. I did not know what to do. Finally I gave out a statement that I had great pride in the state of Alabama, but that I did not propose to submit to the Wall street backing of Oscar Underwood."

"I want to say now that my support and the support of the progressives of Alabama at that time was obtained under false pretenses. Had I known that Thomas F. Ryan, who was denounced by Bryan, was financing the Underwood campaign in great measure I would have fought him, and, furthermore, he never should have been the choice of the people of Alabama."

"I hereby declare that the choice of him for the senate shall not be obtained the same way."

Replying to this attack, Mr. Underwood said no man ever had used him as a tool.

"The people of the United States have seen me placed in a position where temptation was strong to yield to influences, and I challenge anyone to point to a single blot on my career," said Underwood. "A great trust was placed in my hands and I challenge the gentleman from Alabama to show that any influence has been used in my administration of that trust."

It is generally believed that Underwood has the better chance of being sent to the senate, as the people of Alabama are not ready to accept the principles for which Hobson stands. He believes in prohibition, in woman suffrage and is a staunch follower of Bryan.

Hobson is a native of Alabama and is 43 years old. He has a record of splendid service in the navy and his bottling up of Cervera's fleet in Santiago harbor during the Spanish-American war is a bright spot in American naval history. He has been in the lower house since 1907.

Underwood is a native of Kentucky and was born in 1862. He was admitted to the bar in 1884 and since then has practiced law in Birmingham, Ala. He has represented his district in congress since 1895 and is now democratic floor leader in the house of representatives.
